

TO: Jamboree Troop Scoutmasters
Jamboree Venturing Crew Advisors
Scout Executives

Please forward this information to your jamboree participants as soon as possible.

The time to register as a National Hometown News Correspondent for the...

2013 National Scout Jamboree

will begin in March. The correspondent application will be available online and will be easy to access at this website:

www.BSAJamboree.org

Applications are submitted to the BSA national office. Jamboree youth are encouraged to report to their local hometown news media during the jamboree -- Scouting's premiere event!

For additional information or assistance, contact:

Mary Fisher

Co-publisher & operations manager

2013 Jamboree Hometown News

phone: (479) 495-2273

email: mfisher@arkwest.com

Register soon to be a...

2013 NATIONAL HOMETOWN NEWS CORRESPONDENT SCOUT JAMBOREE

All jamboree youth participants are eligible to register as a National Hometown News Correspondent with the opportunity to share their jamboree experience directly back home to their local news organizations.

Working with newspaper, radio, and other media professionals, a National Hometown News Correspondent will take jamboree photographs and write news stories on a laptop at the Hometown News media area, share news photos and content, or transmit via the broadcast media at the Summit media area directly to media outlets back home.

In addition, many special activities and events, celebrity interview opportunities, behind-the-scenes photo ops, and more -- available ONLY to National Hometown News Correspondents -- are planned.

Multiple Scouts or Venturers may register from one troop (unlike only one jamboree troop reporter). Be a part of the worldwide media coverage at the jamboree.

Opportunities exist in the following areas:

- Newspapers
- Online Newspapers
- Magazines
- Online Magazines
- Radio

The time to register as a National Hometown News Correspondent for the 2013 National Scout Jamboree will be available in March. It's easier than ever to sign up!

www.BSAJamboree.org